STANFORD HALL
Lutterworth, Leicestershire

Stanford Hall is a Grade 1 listed quintessential English, family owned, stately home, built in 1697 in the reign of William & Mary and situated in Leicestershire, England, near the village of Stanford on Avon and the town of Lutterworth, between the borders of the counties of Leicestershire, Northamptonshire and Warwickshire in the heart of England. With only 2.5% of all listed buildings falling into the Grade I category, Stanford Hall is a renowned example of its era and therefore of national importance.

Stanford Hall has been the venue of choice for weddings for many years. Set in 700 Acres, Stanford Hall guarantees you total privacy and exclusivity for your special day. Should you wish for a small intimate wedding in the Rose Garden or one of our heritage rooms or larger scale celebration, Stanford Hall has over 13 stunning indoor and outdoor venue options to choose from and can support a wedding from 10 to 300 guests.

We offer exclusive use, bespoke weddings where the Hall and dependences can be yours and your family's for the occasion. You can seat up to 80 in the magnificent splendour of our ballroom, followed by an afterparty for up to 200 guests in our Georgian Stables Courtyard and party rooms. We can offer civil wedding ceremonies for up to 80 in the Ballroom or Church weddings for up to 200 guests. We also have two lakeside and one back lawn site for large wedding marquees.
